Denver Scholarship Foundation Welcomes Jennifer Cmil to its Board of Directors

Denver, CO – Denver Scholarship Foundation (DSF) is proud to welcome Jennifer Cmil to its board of directors. Ms. Cmil, who brings extensive experience in human resources, was elected to her position on the board earlier this month.

Ms. Cmil was appointed executive vice president, human resources, for Newmont in October 2019, after previously serving as the senior vice president, human resources and vice president, talent management. Prior to joining Newmont in 2010, Ms. Cmil held leadership positions in human resources across multiple industries, including vice president of human resources at Level 3 Telecommunications, senior human resources director at KB Home, and human resources business partner at Sun Microsystems, where she began her career in 1994. She is passionate about enabling a diverse and inclusive work environment. Ms. Cmil received her Bachelor of Science degree from Syracuse University and her Master of Industrial and Labor Relations degree from Cornell University.

“We are thrilled to welcome Ms. Cmil to our board of directors,” said Lorie Rabinowitz, chief executive officer of DSF. “With a long history of leadership experience and a vision for the future workforce in Denver, Ms. Cmil’s role provides opportunity to continue building DSF’s talent pipeline. Newmont has been a longtime partner of DSF, providing a named scholarship in support of our Scholars attending Colorado School of Mines, serving as volunteers with our overall Scholar community and sponsoring events that lead to greater access to opportunity for all students.”

Since its founding in 2006, DSF has served 7,020 Scholars thanks to the strong leadership of its board of directors.
